THE L. AND N. ABANDON THEIR PLAN

Kentucky Central-Another Flood of Immigrants-New York News.

NEW YORK BUREAU RICHMOND TIMES,

Harry Lee Post, G. A. R., of Brooklyn, has passed a resolution condemning the proposed blue and gray pavilion for war relies at the Chicago Fair, and asking that "any Union veterans fraternizing with organizations that display the rebel flag be ineligible to membership in the G. A. R." This is a fling at Grant Post, which invited the Confederate Veteran Camp to decorate Grant's tomb last Saturday, and its members are very indignant over the canvass of the principal financial houses dealing directly with the South and of promi-nent Wall-street capitalists interested in bouthern investments shows that the most hopeful results are expected from the negotiations between the State of Virginia and the bondholders' committee. The general conscensus of opinion seems to be that the plan approved by the Cleveland-Bayard arbitration committee is one that is lement to the State and just to its creditors. The result of the settlement of the debt is certain to reflect great credit on the committee and one that will be of vast Southern investments shows that the most on the committee and one that will be of vast importance to the improvement of the South and will tend to influence foreign capitalists who desire to secure good investments.

EXPENSIVE WRECKS.

Advices from the navy yard state that the tranding of the Friana and the wreck of the calena have caused a loss to the Government of $335,000. A board of survey estimates that the repairs to the Galena, would cost 22 per cent. of her original value, and has consequently ordered her to be condemned and sold. The Galena cost about $300,000, but in her present condition her hull would not bring more than $18,000 or $20,000. This represents a loss of $280,000, added to which is $30,000 loss on the Friana, $5,000 loss on the the Nina, and $20,000 paid for wreckage. ARRIVAL OF IMMIGRANTS.

Colonel John B. Weber, superintendent of immigration, reports the following arrivals of immigrants at this port for the past five months of the year: There is an increase in numbers for 1891 over the corresponding months of the previous year. In Januar the number of arrivals was 3,404; February, 1,880; March, 13,394; April, 11,374; and May, 1,979. The falling off in numbers during last month was due to the new law, which keeps out an undesirable class of immigrants. The total number of arrivals during the past five months was 194,000, against 162,000 for the same period in 1890.

The number of immigrants that arrived to-day exceeded 6,000. Three of the steamers brought 3,500 Italians, mostly from Southern Italy. This is the largest Italian immigration that ever reached the port in one day. DR. MYLES-MISS PLATT.

The wedding of Miss Edith Platt, a descendant of the Lees of Virginia, to Dr. Robert C. Dr. John W. Brown, of St. Thomas church, will perform the ceremony, which will be followed by a reception. Dr. Myles is a Mississippian by birth, and was associated with Sir Morrell MacKenzie during the famous doctor's attendance upon the the famous doctor's attendance upon the Crown Prince of Germany, and rendered him valuable assistance on that occasion. WALL STREET ECHOES. Mr. Gustave Ober, a Baltimore banker, has secured an option upon twenty-six shares of the Macon Construction Company at the par value of $10,000 per share. The privilege has been extended to holders of the other twentyfour shares of stock to come in at the same price. The capital of the company is $500,000. The company owns the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad, 285 miles in length, from Macon to Palatka; the Macon and Birmingham railroad, now in course of construction, and a controlling interest in Macon and Savannah Construction Company, which owns and is building the the Macon and Atlantic railroad, from Macon to Collecton, a new port south of Savannah. All of these companies are now in the hands of receivers through the refusal of President John M. Robinson, of the Chesapeake Bay Line Steamship Company, to buy the Georgia Scuthern and Florida road last winter.

The Savannah and Western railroad has taken possession of the Chattanooga, Rome and Columbus railroad. The latter will be henceforth known as the Chattanooga branch of the Savannah and Western.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company will soon add thirty-four new coaches to their stock. The Pullman Car Company has the contract for building them.

with that expectation. When the time for action came, however, it was decided to defer the matter, but there has been quiet pressure upon the point ever since. Action is likely to be taken this summer, partly because the company has a profitable use to which it can put the money expected to be received for the new stock. This use is partly in the line of taking up old obligations and partly in the way of saving interest on new, together providing for part of the money required to pay viding for part of the money required to pay increased dividends. The order secured by the American adherents of Parnell, requiring Eugene Kelly to show cause why he should not be restrained from sending to Justin McCarthy $15,060 raised in this country last fall by Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien, and placed in his hands for safe keeping, has been returned before Judge Pratt, of Brooklyn. No more money will be sent to Ireland pending the proceedings, which will be finally decided next Thursday. Mr. George Gibson, of Richmond, is in town. He is the guest of his sister-in-law, Mrs. M. Our Divorce Laws. The evils which grow out of the existing in-congruous marriage and divorce laws through-out the various States are becoming more and more manifest. The remedy for these evils can only be found in uniform laws regulating these relations. Thus far the advocates of a uniform law are divided into two classes: first, those who favor an amendment to the first, those who favor an amendment to the Federal Constitution, giving the power to legislate upon the subject to Congress; second, those who advocate concert of action among the States. These two classes may, for convenience, be designated as those who desire a national law enacted by Con-gress and those who favor voluntary unificagress and those who favor voluntary unification through enactments by the various State legislatures. The object to be gained is the same in both cases, but the means recommended are very different. The desired end must be secured, and the least objectionable method should be adopted. Such a system of harmonious laws regulating the matrimonial relations is absolutely essential to the welfare of our Republic, representing the greatest nation and the most ambitious people on the globe. There is no longer any room for hesitation or argument on this subject of uniform legislation, for the necessity is imminent and imperative. On March 3, 1887, Congress appropriated $10,000 to enable the Commissioner of the National Bureau of Labor to collect and report to Congress the Labor to collect and report to Congress the statistics of and relating to marriage and divorce in the several States and Territories and the District of Columbia. That report was issued by the said Commissioner on February 20, 1889, and covers a period of twenty years from 1887 to 1886. The statis-tics presented are of the most startling char-acter, showing a decided increase in the num-ber of divorces granted, and also in the ratio of divorces to the number of marriages during the same period. They also show that while the same period. They also show that while there has been an increase of about 69 per cent in population, there has been an increase of 159 per cent. in the number of divorces, which is in excess of twice the increase in population. The total number of divorces granted in the United States during the twenty years covered by the report reaches beyond a quarter of a million. With these appalling facts and figures before us, no one animated with a patriotic concern for the public welfare and for the purity and perpetuity of our peculiar social and civil institutions, can remain indifferent to this growing evil, which threatens the foundations of our splendid threatens the foundations of our splendid national superstructure. Divorces, and the many evils which accompany them, are not to be attributed alone to the so-called essen-

Blavatsky, who was cremated at Woking, Fng., recently were was cremated at Woking, Fig., recently were brought home by the secretary of the Theosophical Society and are now reposing at the headquarters of that institution, in Avenue road, London, This headquarters, by the way, is the private residence of Mrs. Annie Hesant, who gave it up to Mme. Blavatsky and her satellites upon entering the society, in rature for which courtery. and her satellites upon entering the society, in return for which courtesy Mrs. Besant was made president of the "Blavatsky Lodge." Mrs. Besant is expected in London to-morrow, and pending her arrival no announcement as to the succession to the leadership of the society has been made. There is a general opinion, however, that the Theosophical Society will split up into factions. Captain C. Prounds, late of the British navy and former member of the Bla-vatsky Lodge, who has lectured on occultism in America, studied the mysteries of esoteric Raddhises in the Fest and is familiar with in America, studied the mysteries of esoteric Buddhism in the East, and is familiar with the entire theosophic propaganda, thinks that Mme. Blavatsky's lieutenants cannot possibly hold together now that the founder of the society is dead. "I apprehend," he said to the Sun correspondent, "that the theosophists will divide into several branches. First, there will be the Olcott fol-lowing and as he is entirely played out with branches. First, there will be the Olcott following, and as he is entirely played out with the Hindoo and Parsee factions he must teach Buddhism. Mrs. Besaut will have her clientele too. She is now miscredited with the extreme socialistic and anarchistic elements which belong to the seculiar party, because she is believed by them to have taken up transcendentalism. She will have a small following of spiritualists. Bertram Keightley will probably control the Adyar section, which has recently been vacated by Olcott, and his school will be Hindoo mysticism in Ceylon. The Rev. J. Bowles Daly, a former clergyman of the Established Church and a B. A. of Dublin University, who has been a sort of jackal for Olcott, will have a following whom he will feed upon Cingalese Buddhism and anti-Christian education in Buddhism and anti-Christian education in America. There will remain the Mark Q. Judge crowd, and opposed to them Professor Cones and his following will represent the agnostic theosophic element."
